

REMOTE CLINICAL APPRAISALS

WHAT YOU
need to know

Resources for Doctors-in-Training

WHAT YOU

need to know

What is a remote clinical appraisal?

If you are a resident medical officer or registrar on-call and you are contacted (via phone or email) by another medical practitioner in the hospital to assess a patient's condition and make a diagnosis (or a differential diagnosis) when you are not present in the hospital, this is referred to as a remote clinical appraisal.

I've heard that claiming for remote clinical appraisals can be quite involved. What should I know?

The Award and Policy Directive are quite prescriptive in terms of the procedures for remote clinical appraisals. There are nine criteria that need to be met to be considered for a remote clinical appraisal.

A remote clinical appraisal that meets this nine criteria is only payable in circumstances where, if it had not been provided remotely, the on-call resident medical officer or registrar would have otherwise needed to have returned to the workplace.

What are the nine criteria?

1. The call (or email) must be from another medical practitioner who is on duty in the hospital.
2. Receive patient history as well as information about their current condition.
3. Discuss the current condition and ask questions to help you with your decision making.
4. Direct further examination or ask for another opinion.
5. Identify a likely cause for the condition or make a diagnosis.
6. Make sure you can justify your conclusion(s).
7. Instruct the caller on a management plan for the patient.
8. Ensure follow-up requirements are clear.
9. Comply with the relevant policies and procedures.

Do I need to note down all this information?

Yes. It's vital that you note down all information at the time and also include this on your form. You must satisfy all nine criteria. All information should be included in the Summary of Appraisal section of the form. You will also need to note the time taken to complete each of the above criteria. The more information you can include, the better!

WHAT YOU

need to know

How soon do I need to submit the claim form?

It's generally a good idea to complete the form as soon as possible after the event and seek sign off from the Director of Medical Services (DMS) as soon as possible after completion.

Where can I find the claim form for a remote clinical appraisal?

The claim form is attached to the NSW Health Policy Directive – Payment to Medical Officers Undertaking a Clinical Appraisal Remotely.

It is probably also a good idea to check in with the JMO Unit at your hospital to see if there is any addition paperwork specific to your LHD that needs to be completed to ensure a successful claim.

What can I expect to be paid for a remote clinical appraisal?

You should be paid a minimum of one hour at the appropriate overtime rate.

What if it takes longer than an hour? Or I am continually called back about the same patient for longer than an hour?

Any time worked should be paid at the appropriate overtime rate.

What does the 'appropriate overtime rate' mean?

Time and a half for the first two hours and double time thereafter.

OR

Double time for any work conducted on a Sunday.

I have remembered some information I should have included on my remote clinical appraisal application; can I add to it or amend it after it has been submitted?

Yes. Get in touch with the manager you submitted the form to as soon as possible and ask to make the necessary changes.

What is the average turnaround time for a remote clinical appraisal to be approved and paid?

Turnaround times can differ from hospital to hospital. If your form is submitted a week before your next pay is due, then you should generally be paid in the next pay cycle.

WHAT YOU need to know

If you have any questions with regards to the information contained in this document or related to Remote Clinical Appraisals, please contact our Workplace Relations team on 9439 8822 or via workplace@amansw.com.au

My remote clinical appraisal application has been rejected. What should I do now?

It's perfectly reasonable for you to ask why your claim has been rejected. Simply ask for more information from the JMO Unit or DMS. If you're unsure, please get in touch with us at the AMA.

My hospital does things a little differently and claiming isn't encouraged, what should I do?

The Award and NSW Health Policy Directive applies to all public hospital medical officers across the state. If you are experiencing push back or have had claims rejected, please get in touch with us.

MORE INFORMATION

The Public Hospital Medical Officers Award and the NSW Health Policy Directive – Payment to Medical Officers Undertaking a Clinical Appraisal Remotely provide information on Remote Clinical Appraisals.

This information is for general guidance only and should not be used as a substitute for obtaining specific assistance or advice. AMA (NSW) will not be liable for any decision made or action taken in reliance on the information in this document.

The information included in this document was collated citing the Public Hospital Medical Officers (State) Award 2023 and NSW Health Policy Directive PD2014_002 - Payment to Medical Officers Undertaking a Clinical Appraisal Remotely.

Australian Medical Association (NSW) Limited

AMA House, Level 6, 69 Christie St, St Leonards NSW 2065, Australia

PO Box 121 St Leonards NSW 1590

ABN 81 000 001 614

Phone: 02 9439 8822 or
1800 813 423 from outside of Sydney
Fax: 02 9438 3760 or 1300 889 017
from outside of Sydney

Workplace Relations:
workplace@amansw.com.au

Membership:
membership@amansw.com.au